Onr ueighbor of the Democrat, in his aper of yesterday, advances the brilliant ar-ument that if a Territory hasn't the right to xelude slave property a State hasn't the right exclude it either. Referring to the slave-older our neighbor says: ler, our neighbor says:

"Where does a new State get the right to leprive him of his property, or drive it from a locality whither it is constitutionally taken, and where it is constitutionally held? Why do not the opponents of Douglas go where their logic sends hem? Why step short at the door of a new State, and suddenly surrender a right made sacred by the common blood and treasure."

BROWN'S LOCKES TROCHES Our neighbor, it should be observed, is argung here not merely from the position of the pponents of Squatter Sovereignly, but from is own position as well; for he avowed dis BROWN'S TROCHES BROWN'S TROCHES is own position as well; for he arowed distinctly the other day that he didn't believe a ferritorial Legislature could abolish property in slaves or property in anything else. Now, as he contents that the "logic" of this position "leads" to a denial of the right of a State to abolish or exclude slave property, he, of course, ust hold that there is no power on earth empetent to do either, and, accardingly, that lave property as well as every other sort of property, is perpetual and indefensible. TROCHES BROWN'S TROCHES

> The reader of the Democrat knows that we were not arguing from our own position. The great argument against the power of a Terri ry to exclude property in slaves is, that a ferritory is bought by the common blood and reasure, and that a citizen of any State has a right, by the common interest his State has in the Territory, to take any species of property e possesses into the Territory. The argument s plausible: but if it were sound, it can be apdied with as much force to the new State as o a Territory. Whenec comes the right of a new State to abolish or exclude any species of properly taken into its limits by the sanction Tthe Federal Constitution, based on simple ustice? We affirm that, if the argument i ullicient against the power of Territory, it i equally potent against the power of a State, which has been acquired by the common blooand treasure.

The editor very ingeniously states our posi ion, that a Territorial Legislature caune abolish slavery; and slips in a word of his own -to abolish or exclude. To exclude, is au ad lition made by the editor himself. We don t snow that a Territorial Legislature can exclude slavery, and we do not know that it cannot. We do say, that the argument for the negative, from the "common blood and trea ure," is worthless; for it proves too much. 1 proves that a State cannot exclude slaves, it is Territory were organized by the common blood and treasure. The editor then gives his deas of sovereign power:

For to assert rigorously that the State, in the exercise of its seven ign power, may not abolish property, is virtually to resolve society into its original elements, by reclaiming on behalf of its institutual members that natural iberty which is the price of social order. The right of property is undoubtedly a natural right of property is undoubtedly a natural right, but every member of society has surrendered so much of his natural rights as may be necessary for the general welfare; and undoubted by Rickey, Mallory & Co., Cincinnati, and may be obtained at the Galt House book ter all politics, it is the right of the sovereign source of the covering of least of least of least of least of least of the covering of least of least of the covering of least of least of least of the covering of least of le e people of a State, the abulition of sla perty or of any other sort of property is nch property, in perfect consistency with the runs of civil liberty. Nay, their very obli-tions to civil liberty will constrain them to solish is; for the allegiance of the citizen in aquestionably, this supreme discretion is lia de to abuse, though a free people will kno-ow to correct its abuse; but, however this ay be, its use is indispensable to the existence society: to renounce it would be. diss lve the social contract, or what has received this ligurative title. No discernin mind can question this. The king can do no wrong; that is, there i o remedy in law for any wrong he may do Jurists are ambitious of a perfect system, and for this purpose there must be a final judge rom whom there is no appeal. If this sove eign has the physical force to execute his denee, there is an end of argument. We have a such king in this country: no such final as biter. There are some things no sovereign can lo-to rob an individual of his property is one of them. Our State Con titution rays: "That b olute, arbitrary power over the lives, liber y, and property of freemen, exists nowhere i Republie; not even in the largest majority. State Conventions, which exercise all the overeign power a State uses, begin by repu Nauscous Drugs and Polsonous Minerals. liating some powers; thus showing their set led conviction that no sovereignty has a right o exercise them. One provision is universal that private properly can't be taken for publi legrived of life or liberty without due proe of law. These are principles founded in th oral sense of mankind that no governme ean disregard, and no sovereignty trample un ler fact in a free country. This does not prevent the govereign power from protecting rights and punishing wrongs t doesn't prevent the exclusion of some sp cies of property; although it cannot aboli such property, or deprive the owner of it. n negro goes to a free State, by consent of h master, he may become free; but the free Stat can't be said to deprive a man of his property A State may wish to prohibit the use of bunk paper, and declare an attempt to pass it a for feiture of the property; but he who violat lestruction of property. States have abolished slavery; but they have not robbed any onc. This common argument, that a Territory can't get rid of property in slaves, because Territory is the produce of the common blood and treasure, proves that a State cannot either: or the owner has just the same right, derived from this consideration, in a new State that he has in a Territory. We hope the editor can inderstand this distinction. It is not our fault

We trust he will not get up such a notion of sovereignty as he seems inclined to. It should never he acknowledged in a free country There is a common law, plain enough to be recognized by judicial tribunals, against such sovereignty. Last Saturdaya young lady in Baltimor on returning home from a walk, suddenly fell to the door and expired. Last Sunday she was buried, and while the hacks were in front of the dwelling, the hackmen became intoxicated and engaged in a most disgraceful fight, several parties being severely beaten. As the funeral rrain moved on, a man jumped upon the box of one of the backs and knocked the driver into the street. This was the signal for another set-to. Their Skirts have attained great popularity, as they use only the very best tempered watch spring steel, and each hoop is fastened to the tapes by means of a woven loop instead of the ordinary clasp. Thus effectually preventing the annoyance of the tapes being constantly cut. Their skirts can be had at all the retail honses throughout he South and West. Sold only at wholesale.

It is astonishing how rapidly a truly valuable medicine comes into general use. Singer & Co., of New York, and Ladd, Webster & Co., of Boston, both large manufacturers of sewing machines.

Singer & Co. set up claims on six different patents, embracing the most important part of the sewing machine: at an early stage of the trial one of them was withdrawn, but the remaining five, embracing some twelve or fifteen inventions, were the subjects of coutre

Tinkering with Poison. SYEACTSE, March 8.—This morning a man named Tinker died from taking poison. He first coisoned his two children, aged about 8 and 6 onces, reported a bill reducing the expenses of the Postoffice department. Referred to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union.

Also, a bill inviting proposals for carrying the entire mails between the Atlantic and Pacific states on one line, by which the government reserves the right to reject any or all bids, if deemed expecient. It is simply to ascertain for what sum the entire mails between those points can be carried.

On motion of Mr. Burnett, the Committee on Public Expenditures was instructed to inquire how the public binding had been let out, the number of binders, the prices proposed: whether contracts have been given to the lowest bidders in necessition with the poisoned his two children, aged about 8 and 6 years, and, having haid them out, folding their hands upon their breasts, he left them in an unoccupied room, where some of his turniture was stored, and went to his hotel and took the poison himself. On Tuesday he poisoned a non-reducing to Dr. Scarls, of this city, and it is supposed he intended to shoot Dr. S., as a loaded pistol was found on him. The cause was the estrangement of his wife and her intimacy with Dr. Scarls, under the influence of free love principles. Great excitement exists, and Dr. Scarls has been locked up in the penitentiary to protect him from the indignation of the citizens.

Opposition State Convention. TRENTON, N. J., March 8.—The Opposition State Convention was well attended. Judge Mr. Stanton argued that the bill should be referred to the military, in order that they might be enabled the more thoroughly to examine it and report reforms.

Mr. Curtis secon led Mr. Stanton's views, contending that the general appropriation bills should be sent to the different committees, and not be entrusted alone to the Committee of Ways and Means.

mot be entrusted alone to the Committee of Ways and Means.

Messrs. Sherman, Phelps and Washburn, of Maine, opposed this, maintaining that such an arrangement would cause confusion and delay. There should be one committee caprosted with the general estimates. By pursuing the ordinary method respecting the appropriation bills, the military and other committees would be enabled, having previously examined their provisions, to propose amendaments. The bill was referred to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union by two majority.

Look to Your Interests. The people are aware that D. O'Hare, No. 427 Main street, is the oldest, largest and most experienced manufacturer of trunks and simi lar articles in the city. They should avail shemselves of the rare opportunities afforded by Mr. O'Hare. To country and city merchants he offers peculiar advantages in his ()UR MILLS APE PUT UP IN STRONG IR IN I RAMI wholesale department, while in the retail line he cannot be equaled. The maxims of the wisest men are to preserve the body in perfect health, not to wait for the development of disease. "Bc wise in time;" check and guard against the first approach. Keep the stomach and blood he and pure, and the plagues of a poisoned at morphere fall harmless. The only remedy that will thoroughly purify the blood, and at the same time strengthen and invigorate the system, is McLean's Streng hening Cordina and Blood Purifier. Try it, and you will be convinced. See advertisement. In dawlm.

UNHEALTHY BREAD .- In no article of food should more cautiousness be exercised than the "staff of life"-bread. In order to have it healthy and nutritious, good flour and pur yeast are necessary. Hurley's Quick Yeast is the best article in use, and in using it there is no fear of swallowing a dyspepsy with you breakfast.

Good .- A lunatic once informed a physicia who was classifying cases of insanily, that he lost his wits by watching a politician, whose course was so crooked that it turned his brain If, on the contrary, he had been watching the effects of He'mstreet's Hair Restorative, he would have saved his wits and learned a curious triumph of Art over Nature.
